Day 2 – Teaching in the Age of AI of the Educast International Online Conference 2026 held on 7 February 2026

Day 2 explored the evolving relationship between educators and artificial intelligence, focusing on AI tools for personalized learning, ethical integration of AI in classrooms, teacher agency and professional identity, and the design of AI-enhanced lessons. Participants examined practical models of human–AI collaboration in pedagogy and critically engaged with one of the defining questions of our time:
Will AI replace teachers or empower them?
